The cooperation between the legislature Schools in general have been around for a long time, and cooperation with school libraries is just as important. Cooperation by providing the library and students with specialized books, lectures, and field cooperation. On the other hand, the library and students may contribute to the studies and reports, and it is even possible to collect university studies electronically. We thank the Council of Representatives and the Shura Council for gifting the "Zakat Al Elm" library a valuable collection of publications from both Councils, which will undoubtedly constitute an important reference for school students.
