Gulf Air Plans To Commence Direct Flights From Bahrain to New York Soon

The national airline of Bahrain is exploring options to resume direct flight service between the Kingdom and the US. During an American Chamber of Commerce (AmCham) luncheon yesterday at the Ritz-Carlton Bahrain, Industry, Commerce, and Tourism Minister Zayed Alzayani announced Gulf Air's plans to boost tourism. According to Mr. Alzayani, who is also Gulf Air's chairman, New York would be the logical port of entry because of traffic and connectivity. Additionally, the Minister said that the government is in the final stages of signing a free trade agreement with seven countries. And that the team is working hard to sign more agreements. These countries are India, Pakistan, China, Australia, New Zealand, South Korea, and Britain.
